

STRATEGIES FOR TEACHING READING IN YOUR CLASSROOM

Presented by Cathy Corrado and Shawn Broderick

March 15, 2019

9am - 3pm

Join Cathy and Shawn to discuss 4 different reading methods and how to apply these while working with Deaf and Hard of Hearing students.

Research shows that a child's language and vocabulary has a critical impact on their literacy skills. Using conceptually accurate ASL signs to express multiple meaning words helps children develop richer vocabularies and increased literacy.

Cathy and Shawn will also discuss how reading assessments must guide your teaching.

Cost:

$20

Location:

Bellingham School District
Room 205
1306 Dupont Street
Bellingham, WA 98225

To Register:

Send the form below to WSDS/
CWU—MS 7409, 400 E.
University Way,
Ellensburg, WA 98926

*Make checks payable to CWU

To register over the phone call
509.963.1670

Presented in ASL

Request an interpreter if needed

Shawn Broderick is an ASL language specialist, teacher and trainer. He currently travels the State of Washington to assess the communication needs of individual Deaf and Hard of Hearing children. He has over 20 years experience teaching ASL and Deaf Culture to all ages. He previously served as faculty for several interpreter training programs. Shawn comes to you with a passion for supporting families with Deaf children.

Cathy Corrado has worked in the field of deaf education for the last 34 years. Since 2010 she has worked as a literacy specialist for the Center for Childhood Deafness and Hearing Loss (CHDL). As part of the CDHL Outreach Team she has had the opportunity to collaborate with a team of skilled professionals in providing consultative assistance and training to both public and private schools around Washington State.

Clock hours available through NCESD. Instructions for receiving clock hours will be emailed prior to the workshop.

Name
Email address
Phone
District/Agency
Position	